

RENT A CELEBRITY VACATION HOME!

FOR A VACATION WITH AN A-LIST TWIST, OK! TRACKS DOWN THE HOTTEST RENTALS ON THE MARKET

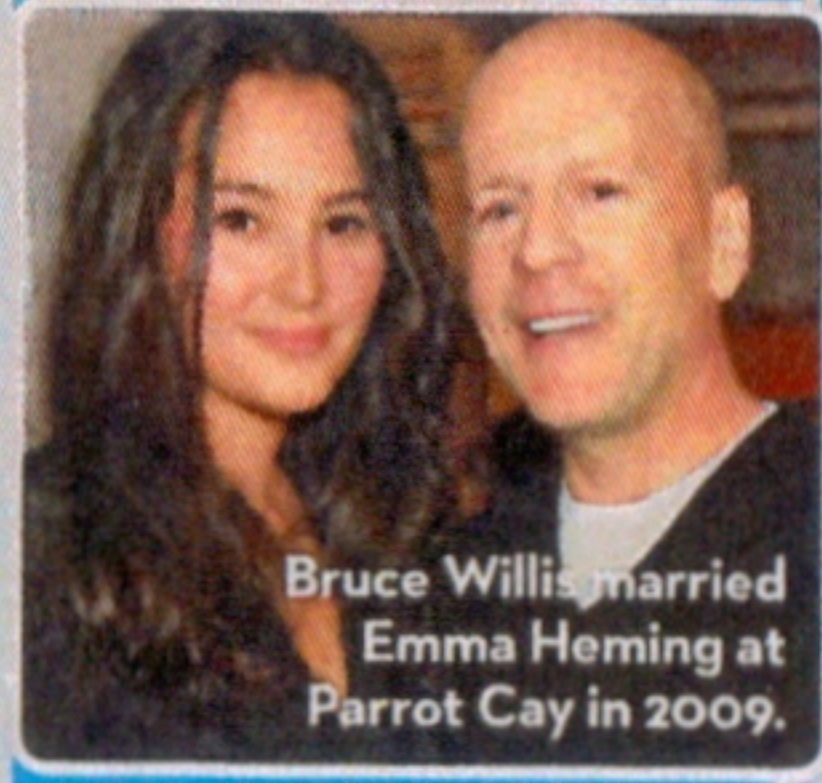

Vacation homes don't get much more glamorous than Bruce Willis' secluded island retreat, The Residence at Parrot Cay on Turks and Caicos.

When Bruce and his wife, Emma Heming, aren't in town – relaxing or playing volleyball with guests including Ashton Kutcher and Demi Moore – the Caribbean compound is available to rent for $8,470 per night, going up to $13,310 per night during the island's high season, from December to April.

The steep fee grants access to The Residence's three luxury villas: a five-bedroom main house with a lagoon-like infinity pool, plus two three-bedroom guesthouses, each with pools.

There's also a private beach, butler service, giant plasma TVs and in-villa dining. It's a wonder Bruce ever leaves!

BRUCE'S CARIBBEAN PARADISE $8,470 PER NIGHT

Bruce Willis married Emma Heming at Parrot Cay in 2009.

Live like a movie star in Bruce's chic vacation home on Turks and Caicos.

Charlize put her Malibu beach house up for rent after breaking up with Stuart.

CHARLIZE'S MALIBU BEACH HOUSE $35,000 PER MONTH

It looks modest enough at first glance, but Charlize Theron's three-bedroom ocean-front bungalow is situated in one of the most star-studded beach communities in the world.

With neighbors including Jennifer Aniston and Cher, you'll need an A-list salary to afford the $35,000-a-month price tag for a stay in the Oscar winner's cozy Malibu home. Charlize spent plenty of romantic weekends at the 2,095-square-foot beach house with ex-boyfriend Stuart Townsend before the pair ended their nine-year relationship earlier this year. Now, the property is available to rent for up to six months from Sept. 1.

Built in 1930, it's one of the oldest homes in the area, but has been fully modernized with an open-plan dining room, large deck with a hot tub and fire pit, plus a high-tech security system.

Stay in Charlize's beach retreat.

WILL & KATE'S ROYAL MANOR $2,071 PER WEEK

Prince William made sure his girlfriend, Kate Middleton, and her family spent the holidays in style last December with a stay at Restormel Manor, the 500-year-old estate owned by his father Prince Charles' Duchy of Cornwall trust.

The Manor house has three separate wings and sleeps up to 18 people, with six additional cottages located in the Manor Courtyard. A stay at Restormel starts at $2,071 for a week.

Located in picturesque southwest England, a mile from the medieval town of Lostwithiel, Restormel's on-site amenities include tennis courts, a swimming pool, barbecues and acres of private gardens to explore.

Kate spent Christmas at Restormel Manor, the country estate that Prince William is likely to inherit from his father.

The Jersey Shore house sleeps up to 12 guests.

The cast is back in Seaside Heights for season three.

THE JERSEY SHORE PARTY PAD $2,500 PER NIGHT

A temporary move to Miami hasn't dampened the appeal of The Jersey Shore cast's first home: a six-bedroom, two-floor house in Seaside Heights.

Snooki, The Situation and the rest of the gang are currently back in the New Jersey beach house, filming season three of the hit reality show, but the property will be back on the rental market for $2,500 a night after Sept. 15.

"It's primarily a weekend property," says Michael Loundy (of seaside-realty.com), who adds the house is popular for parties. "It is decorated just like it was on the show," he says. "It has a new kitchen, three private decks and MTV just put in central air."

Spend the night in one of the most talked-about homes on TV.
